OpenTech Summit
March 18-20, 2016
Singapore

FOSSASIA OVERVIEW

The FOSSASIA Summit is the premier annual open technology event in Asia. FOSSASIA 2016 will take place from March 18 – 20, 2016 in Singapore. With participants from across the globe FOSSASIA is a cosmopolitan gathering that showcases not only the latest but greatest technologies ranging from open hardware, to design, graphics and software.

FOSSASIA offers sponsors the unique opportunity to tap into the world's fastest growing markets, discover new business opportunities and increase awareness for products and trends among technology multipliers and young early adopters.

Each year, the event brings together hundreds of developers, engineers, businesses, non-profit organizations, government entities, and community contributors to learn, network, and explore the full potential of Open Source. FOSSASIA was established in 2009. Throughout the year FOSSASIA meetups take place around Asia in locations such as Vietnam, Cambodia, Dubai and Beijing. At coding programs we train over a thousand students. Winners of the programs will join us at the FOSSASIA summit.
